

A photograph of two elderly individuals, a man and a woman, sitting at a wooden table in a kitchen. They are both focused on preparing cookies. The man on the left is using a white spatula to mix ingredients in a stainless steel bowl. The woman on the right is also using a white spatula to scoop cookie dough from a bowl onto a grey parchment-lined surface. There are several small mounds of dough already on the parchment. In the background, there is a red wall and a white radiator. A logo for 'elior' is visible in the top right corner of the image. A large white diamond-shaped graphic is overlaid in the center of the image, containing text.
